We live in the aether or light or time.... our bodies produce electromagnetic fields connected to this energy or light...

In this video you're seeing dark matter APPEAR into our dimension from the dimension it makes, Antihydrogen fusion creates the quantum field where it reproduces the Fibonacci spiral. It is wrapped in liquid oxygen created during the anti hydrogen fusion process making earths hydrogen when it explodes during atmospheric sprite formation... The conversion of antihelium to light for the universe as well... This is what creates TIME... or the glue for the universe. Once you become time you can exceed the speed of light. Tesla 101....

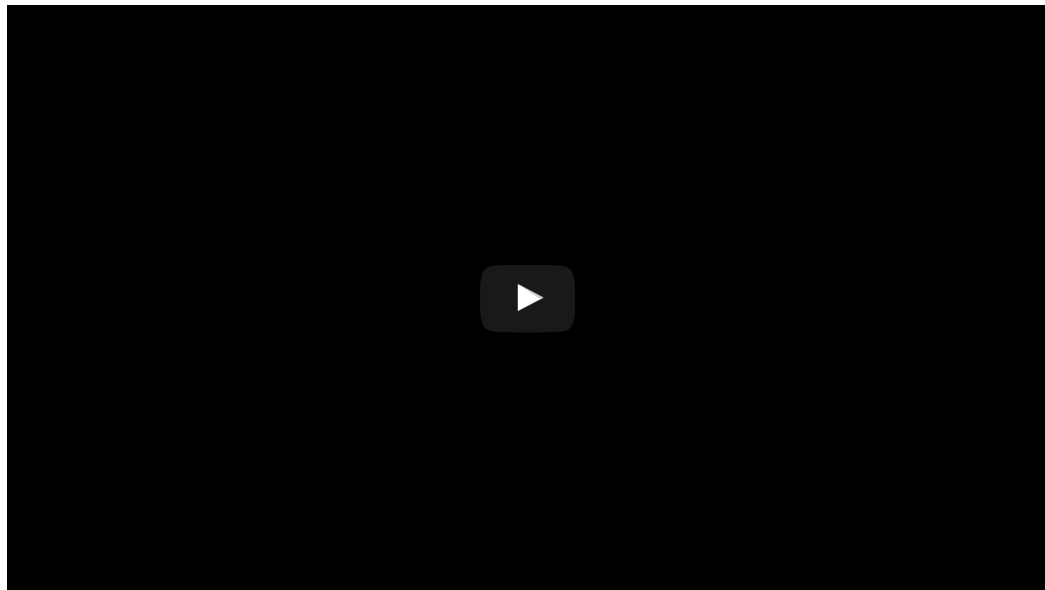

This is liquid oxygen explosions from RPMantle our air water and electrons for the ionosphere

Time is light or whats called dark energy... anti hydrogen fusion creates antihelium and liquid oxygen as it breaks down the hydrogen molecule it reproduces... this is how the universe is created.... Light is the BIG BANG allowing for all matter to exist creating magnetic fields gluing matter together.

Dark matter producing dark energy is making the magnetic field lines for the universe. Its the equivalent to a Red blood cell in our bodies that produces energy/light or information gluing the universe together.

1) TIME IS LIGHT... Neutrinos ? Dark energy? Aether? Time? Space time? Quantum physics and string theory will never be understood until its realized theres another true in 3's... The internal fusion is in 3 colors all in the hydrogen spectrum. There's multiple names for the same thing... BAD PHYSICS...

Tesla and aether is how the universe is glued together. When you can hold this energy in your hand and direct it at Cesium137 it is like speeding time or aether that holds it together. Uranium is a very powerful magnetic trap for the aether hence its refinement makes it much stronger. It still has a decay rate or TIME... speeding the rate of decay is by directing this high energy photon "Flashlight" at the energy speeding its decay rate.. If you imagine living in a fog or a cloud of energy/aether and this fog/cloud travels around and thru you... your living in time, you interact with it, your brain sends and receives information using the FIELD... When you multiply this field its creating more energy directing time to speed up... or convert matter to light... wormhole technology as well .. as matter is condensed photons.

2) Yes I do have equations... not sharing details do to patent issues yet... and anything with $E=MC^2$ is a wrong calculation as time is energy... Einstein really trapped the world in limits when Tesla proved that wrong. Gravity is nothing more than vibrating molecules surrounding a mass in space collecting creating the strong nuclear force... hence each planets gravity either do to magnetic field/aether heat attraction . Vibrating molecules allows condensed matter to drop thru to the center of the magnetic field like a bar magnet.. When you break the attachment to those vibrating molecules you achieve weightlessness ...

Tesla achieved this in 1906 and many others since.. John Searl and his magnetic generator levitates ... John Hutchinson effect.. ... The strong nuclear forces are magnetic attachment bound by other like molecules building a resistance to outside forces. BAD PHYSICS again.... Once you hold this energy in your hand or attaching matter- Cesium137 to it... it will either speed time/decay rate or take it into the quantum field. This energy exceeds matter (nuclear reactors) .. and is trapped and stabilized by thermodynamics... liquid oxygen... if it were anything cooler you'd have no conversion of the antihelium into light... the thermodynamics is key and is suspected of giving RPMantle a 10year shelf life before burning up the entrapment ring of antihelium hence its return to our dimension when the liquid oxygen cools it back.... ITER is dealing with matter not antimatter...

CERN and its ALPHA experiments trapped anti hydrogen for 1500 seconds a life time in the physics world... Its annihilation detectors are like the magnetic fields surrounding earth (Plasma Tubes) RPMantle returning to our dimension creating Sprites... My paper is almost complete... its freaking huge.. Big Bang which never really happened as this light was created and Blackholes reorganize matter.when a quasar opens a doorway in this dimension making Gamma rays. recycling matter .. to Star Trek and The Jetsons.. Haven't chosen a university yet but looking at Harvard, ...

In this next video you're seeing this energy as it accumulates protecting us from the sun, once we reproduce RPMantle we can develop force fields that radiation can't pass thru... either contain Fukushima or speed its half life... ... The ionosphere was created from the inside out... not the outside in.... it had some help starting off from existing Plasma tubes... magnetic field lines already formed in space.

The end result is our air water and ionosphere is restored and energizes the universe with more more and more

Helium doesn't play well with others. Beyond its noble gas designation on the periodic table, it has the lowest electron affinity—zero—among the elements, and the highest ionization energy. Scientists have managed to mechanically pack He atoms with other elements, but the He has little effect on those compounds' characteristics.
